Important Info

- Continuing Education is a requirement by the State of Michigan (LARA) to maintain your real estate license.
- Code of Ethics is a requirement from the National Association of Realtors to maintain Realtor membership and benefits.
- All GMAR Continuing Education courses are approved through CEMarketplace.net, which is not only a great place to track your credits, but also accepted by LARA to help avoid issues in the event of an audit on your education.
- Track your CE credits at CEMarketplace.net.
- Track your Code of Ethics on the GMARonline.com Member Account page.

CONTINUING EDUCATION RENEWAL INFORMATION:

- October 31, 2018 - all renewal hours must be completed to apply for your real estate license renewal.
- All licensees must have a minimum of 18 credit hours. - 12 elective/standard and 6 legal. You must get 2 legal hours per year.

If your license was issued after 11/01/2015 the total credits required for renewal may be prorated.

- The Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) is no longer tracking credit hours, however you may create a free account on CEMarketplace.net to track and even upload hours not approved by CEMarketplace.
- If you need additional education credits hours to meet the state requirement, please go to GMARonline.com, where you can view our class calendar and register for classes.

CODE OF ETHICS RENEWAL INFORMATION:

- December 31, 2018 - a minimum of 2.5 hours must be completed to maintain active Realtor membership.
- These credits must be approved through your local association prior to completion.
- These credits are tracked through GMAR, you can login to your Member Account at GMARonline.com for verification.
- We offer the Code of Ethics training in the following formats: webinar, online (both CE and non-CE approved), and classroom.

If have you have any questions, need help verifying hours or finding classes, give us a call.
